

Your Monthly News & Updates

This month, we will be rolling out updates to eVox Reports. Read up on what has changed, and how it affects your billing and coding moving forward. Plus, don't miss our Mid-Year Sale and your chance to get 17% off an eVox System!

Evoke Announcements.

Report Updates

At Evoke Neuroscience, we stay up-to-date with the latest in published literature on electrophysiology biomarkers and are proud to deliver the most clinically advanced reports to aid your diagnosis of cognitive disorders. We are excited to announce new developments in our reporting service, which will be implemented in the next few days!

The Summary Report

The Summary Report is your one-page overview of key brain based biomarkers. To aid your diagnosis and improve clinical work flow, this report has been restructured to include self-report symptoms, ERP biomarkers, and eyes-closed EEG data.

The Memory Report

To streamline our offering, we are retiring the Memory Report. Biomarkers from this report will still be available on the eVox Comprehensive and Summary Reports.

Auditory ERP

Due to a hardware change by our laptop manufacturer and related vendor software changes, we will no longer be offering Auditory ERP metrics in our reports. Despite this change, the 2019 total reimbursement potential of the 5 CPT procedures performed by the eVox System remains at $725*, plus patient responsibility. Of course, reimbursements vary by payer, region, and require the establishment of medical necessity.

Keep in mind...

- If you have not updated your billing and coding procedures to reflect the 2019 reimbursement codes, you must do so now. Questions? Talk to our practice development experts.
- These report changes will be implemented within the next few days. Be on the lookout for an announcement of when these changes go live.
- No changes will be made to previously generated reports and you will still be able to access these and any future reports on your web portal.

Meet with an Expert for an eVox Report Review
